Custom Software Solutions and The Mennonite Mutual Fire Insurance Announce Integration Module

October 2007 - Custom Software Solutions Inc. (CSSI) and Mennonite Mutual Fire Insurance (MMFI) are pleased to announce that MMFI Insurance Brokers will soon be able to download and import Policy data from MMFI web services direct into CSSI's The Broker's Workstation (TBW) and Intelliquote (IQ) software.

MMFI has worked with CSSI to provide for optimal download integration of MMFI's Policy Analyzer data into CSSI's complete office solution, TBW, and also into its standalone rating and underwriting tool, IQ. The data will include base policy and billing information as well as a PDF of MMFI's Policy declaration pages.

CSSI continues to deliver to brokers optimal integration tools. "We will deliver as many integration tools to our brokers as possible to streamline their workflow and eliminate duplicate processes," said Scott Andrew, CEO of Custom Software Solutions. "Despite the onset of individual Insurance Company processes we have not lost sight of creating a SEMCI environment for our Brokers.

"We are committed to deliver information to our Brokers in an efficient manner to assist in driving efficiencies in the Broker distribution channel," said Earl Harder, CEO MMFI. "Custom Software was chosen for their expertise and leading technical advancement in the field of broker support systems and was a natural partner because a large majority of our Brokers run their systems in Saskatchewan."

About The Mennonite Mutual Fire Insurance

Mennonite Mutual Fire Insurance was founded in 1894, well before Saskatchewan became a province and was the first insurance company established in the province. MMFI, located in Waldheim, Saskatchewan, along with approximately 50 Farm Mutual P&C Insurers across Canada own their own reinsurance company, Farm Mutual Reinsurance Plan Inc. located in Cambridge, Ontario. This unique relationship provides MMFI with a stable and secure reinsurer. The reinsurance is placed at cost and spreads the risk exposure across Canada. Because of this relationship, MMFI has an insurance capacity of $6 million per risk and up to $18 million per risk using the facultative market.

In addition to home, auto, and commercial insurance, MMFI specializes in large and corporate farms such as dairy, poultry, and hogs, as well as farm and commercial related enterprises including seed growers/cleaners.

As a farm based insurer, the company provides, at no cost, risk consulting services to its policyholder/owning members using infrared thermography and ultrasonic technology to assist in identifying and rectifying potential hazards and losses. We are pleased to market our insurance products through approximately 100 brokers located throughout Saskatchewan. For more information, visit our website at www.mmfi.com.
