Custom Software Solutions Inc. Announces My Proof of Insurance Integration

(Toronto – May 7, 2018) Custom Software Solutions Inc. (CSSI) has announced that it will integrate CSIO's My Proof of Insurance eDelivery solution with its The Broker's Workstation (TBW), The Underwriter's Workstation (TUW) and Intelliquote (IQ) products. This integration enables brokers to send customers digital policy documents for personal and commercial lines, including proof of auto insurance (eSlips), without leaving their BMS.

"We are excited to bring this additional CSIO functionality to our brokers, empowering them to continue creating a truly digital experience for customers insured by any carrier partner in whatever way they choose," says Scott Andrew, President & CEO of Custom Software Solutions Inc. "At CSSI, we have the ability to deliver documents in a number of ways from our products. We are committed to supporting multiple unique and effective solutions that meet the needs of brokers, and CSIO's My Proof of Insurance eDelivery is certainly one of those solutions."

"CSSI now joins many other software providers across Canada that have seen the value that integrating My Proof of Insurance eDelivery brings to brokers, carriers and consumers alike," says Catherine Smola, President and Chief Executive Officer of CSIO. "This solution directly addresses consumer expectations for fast, easy and convenient digital interactions with their insurance provider, and we look forward to continued adoption throughout 2018."

The My Proof of Insurance eDelivery solution was developed by CSIO, in collaboration with brokers and insurers, to meet evolving consumer demands for anytime, anywhere, any device interaction. Visit www.csio.com/edelivery to learn more.
