RE: Town Variation Factor

We recently had the opportunity to automate the Town Variation Factor generation and were successful in creating a connection between the rating factors and the 6-digit Postal Codes. In the majority of cases, an explicit hint is no longer required to determine the correct location even when our premium may depend on a specific street. You will only need to enter the 6-digit Postal Code and the protection grade to generate the appropriate rating factor.

Explicit hints may still generate for certain locations, however, for the most part the automation will help reduce data entry time to complete a quotation as well as minimize errors. We believe you will appreciate this great improvement.
